

Using a HAWK Signal

While the HAWK signal is different in appearance to motorists, the signal works like other pushbutton-activated crossings for pedestrians and bicyclists. For drivers, it uses traditional signal heads, but in different configuration and features that may be unfamiliar. The diagram on the right explains the HAWK signal sequences for drivers and pedestrians/bicyclists.

Drivers

Will see this... ► Do this...

Pedestrians/Bicyclists

Will see this... ► Do this...

